Glastonbury Festival

of Contemporary Performing Arts

25-26-27 June 2004

It is an easy thing
To see a god on every wind and a blessing on every blast...
Thus could I sing and thus rejoice, but it is not so with me.
I will arise Explore these dens and find that deep pulsation.
Perhaps this is the night of Prophecy...
When thought is closed in Caves, Then love shall shew its root even in deepest Hell –William Blake
